| Objective | Filming human emotions is the basic storytelling element in film making, without the display of human emotions we are unable to move an audience member to respond to a story. |
| Directions | Make a one minute video that concentrates on a human emotion. For example, love could be your human emotion, film numerous shots of individuals giving and receiving love, concentrate on the expressions of love that evoke emotions to a viewer. This could be depicted with a mother’s care for her child, or a boyfriend and a girlfriend talking together. Refer to Christopher Kenworthy’s text, Master Shots , Chapter 6, 7, & 12, for additional ideas on shots that you can utilize. |
| Format | Post your completed assignment on Youtube and/or display for the teacher. |
